

researching the different products and services each bank offers.
two pieces of identification when opening an account (passport, study permit, etc.)

